Meeting of Laborers

Knights of Labor and Mine Laborers.

CONSOLIDATION OF INTERESTS.

A Joint Meeting of Those Interested Held at Columbus, Ohio—A National Address Issued—The Topics Discussed by the Meeting.

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 24.—A joint meeting of the representatives of the National Progressive Union of Miners and Mine Laborers, and National District Assembly 135, Knights of Labor, was held yesterday to consider plans for the amalgamation of the two organizations. As a result of this meeting the following joint addresses was issued to the members of National District Assembly, Knights of Labor, and the Progressive Union of Miners and Mine Laborers.

"For many years, by reason of a conflict originating in the existence of two rival miners' organizations, much valuable energy has been unprofitable employed in an unnecessary struggle for supremacy, and in the contest the miners connected with both bodies of organized miners have been the principal sufferers. No sadder commentary upon the efforts of miners to improve their condition as a craft could be presented than the spectacle of the few—and we use the term few only to intimate that quite a percentage of our calling stand outside the pale of any form of organization—at war with other to the infinite pleasure of unscrupulous employers who have learned too often the strength born of unity, and the injury of all who find employment in the business of mining coal.

"The condition of our craft to-day has been reduced to the present low level, first, by reason of an absence of a proper interest in mining affairs; and second, because of the failure up to this date of the two organizations to unite their powers and agree upon a policy that would at once be acceptable to both classes of present officials, and satisfactory to the rank and file of the respective miners' unions. Our inability, as shown by the character of past efforts, to thoroughly unite our powers by harmonizing our forces has led to reduction in wages, and in different parts of the competitive district rendered our miners and officials powerless to resist imposition, and asser, the rights of their members as wage workers, with no other prospect before us but of suffering still for the modifications of our already too low standard of mining rates.

"While efforts have in the past few years been made to consummate the object that not only we, but the body of organized miners, whether belonging to the one or the other of the present forms of organization, have in view, they have not had the desired effect, and if painful lessons of the necessity of harmony of action, as shown in the series of defeats which our miners have been compelled to submit to so required, surely our late experiences cannot fail to persuade even the most enthusiastic advocate of numerous organizations, officiated by different sets of officials, whose positions as the official representatives of the different organizations invited and made possible the existence of the conditions from which we, as a craft, suffer to-day.

"The results growing out of a division of our forces has created an almost general demand to be made from the rank and file of both organizations for a consolidation of our powers under one official head, and in keeping with their expressed desires, the writers of this met and agreed upon the following plan which we believe, if adopted, would unite our forces upon a basis satisfactory to the members of both organizations and bring about the beneficial results that all demand.

"First—To unite the two organizations under one head to govern and protect the interests of miners and mine laborers, this union to be effected without sacrificing the essential features of either organization.

"Second—The organization to be divided into National, district and local divisions, the meetings of which are to be either secret or open, as the members may determine, or the exigencies of the case may require. That is to say, the meaning of the terms, "Open or secret" shall be construed as applying to the meetings of the National Progressive union, or the Knights of Labor, as the case may be.

"Third—Equal taxation upon affiliated members.

"Fourth—The staff of officers for the National and each district and local organization, in which due provisions shall be made for visiting and directing the business of both branches of the organization.

"The necessity for a unification of our forces demands that all the members of both existing unions, and even those miners not connected with either give these propositions their careful thought and study, that they may be better prepared to intelligently consider the adoption or modification of the policy here outlined.

"JOHN B. REA, W. M., 135.

Treasurer, 135.

"JOHN McBride, President, N.

P. U.

"PATRICK MCBRYDE, Secretary-

Treasurer, N. P. U.

"DAVID ROSS, for N. P. U."

President John McBride also issued the call for the regular annual convention of the National Progressive union, to be held in Columbus, Tuesday, Jan.
22, 1890. He refers to the fact that the Knights of Labor have issued a call for a convention of all miners, organized and unorganized, "and it is intended to hold a joint meeting with them to make a final effort to unite our forces and inaugurate a decisive moment to increase mining prices and better the condition of mine workers. We extend an invitation to miners not organized to send delegates to our convention, and we ask our members to urge upon them doing so. Do not let past differences nor present prejudices prevent our making a strong and an honest effort to ameliorate the condition of our craftsmen."

CANDLE LIGHT.

A Cincinnati Suburb Visited by a $50,000 Fire—Losses Elsewhere.

CINCINNATI, Dec. 24.—What is known as the tank-house of Thomas Emery's Sons' extensive soap and candle works, at Ivorydale, was totally destroyed by fire last night, entailing a loss of about $50,000. The destroyed building was three stories in height and constructed of stone. It was one of several structures that constitute the great works. In it was stored about 40,000 pounds of grease.
This highly inflammable material was in three great iron tanks.

About 9:30 o'clock the fire broke out.
At that time the stop-cock of one of the tanks was blown off by the pressure of the liquid grease. Immediately a stream of the oily substance shot across the room, causing the atmosphere to become laden with a peculiar and inflammable gas. This coming in contact with a jet of gas ignited. Instantly the great room was transformed into a roaring furnace.
When the burnt tank was exhausted, the other two let go, their contents feeding the flames.

Owing to the fierceness of the conflagration and the nature of the material on which the fire fed, it was observable for miles, lighting up the heavens and vicinity of Ivorydale as bright as day.
As the fire service is practically worthless all there could be done was to let the fire exhaust itself. This it did after burning about four hours. The loss sustained will be total, as the Emerys carry no insurance. About a month ago they suffered an almost similar loss, one of their buildings being destroyed on the occasion.

Grocery Burned.

WARASH, Ind., Dec. 24.—John Weber's grocery, in the northwest part of the city, was burned at half-past 10 last night. None of the contents could be saved because of a keg of powder which exploded with terrific effect, opening the side of the building and spreading the flames. There is an insurance of $700 on the stock, in the Phoenix, of London.
George Aldrich's meat market, adjoining, was damaged.

Dwelling Burned by an Incendiary.

BRAZIL, Ind., Dec. 24.—The elegant brick residence of Dr. John Williams, near Bowling Green, burned. Loss $3,000; insured for $600 in the Home of New York. The fire was incendiary. A year ago it was mysteriously haunted, the ghost retiring after he had stolen $1,100. The burning was malicious persecution.

Unsuccessful Burglars.

KENTLAND, Ind., Dec. 24.—Burglars made an unsuccessful attempt to rob the Discount and Deposit bank at this place Saturday night. They broke open the double doors of the vault and attacked the steel money safe in a way that demonstrated that they were expert cackmers. They stripped off the outside plate of the door and proceeded to take off the other plates, eight in number, when they were frightened away by parties who heard the explosions of their dynamite.
They came to this place from Sheldon, Ill., on a hand car, but in returning became tired of the hand car and stole a horse from a farm stable and completed their journey to Sheldon, where they probably took an early train for Chicago. Had they been successful they would have secured several thousand dollars in currency.

A Peculiar Accident.

ANDOVER, Mass., Dec. 24.—A piece of timber projecting from a freight train raked the side of a passing express train on the Boston and Maine railroad here, breaking every window and sash and covering the passengers with glass and splinters. The cars were filled with passengers. Fifteen or twenty persons were slightly cut or bruised. A number of ladies fainted from fright, and one of them remained unconscious for hours. It is said she received injuries which are likely to prove fatal. When the train arrived at Lawrence the injured were cared for, and most of them were able to continue their journey. The train to which the mishap occurred was the Portland express. All trains were delayed half an hour.

Death of a Benevolent Lady.

JAMESTOWN, N. Y., Dec. 24.—Mary Norton Prendergast, one of the best known ladies in this section, died at Rochester last night, aged 69 years. She was mother of the late assemblyman, James Prendergast, Jr. The deceased was known for her charity and recently begun the erection of a free library here in memory of her son at a cost of $60,- 000. The mayor has called for a public observance of the funeral. Jamestown was originally named after the first Prendergast, its founder, and with the death of Mrs. Prendergast the family becomes extinct.

Murder of a Policeman.

MOBILE, Ala., Dec. 24.—Police patrolman John McGuire was murdered last night by a baker named Joseph Hamell. Hamell called at McGuire's house to-day and accused him with stealing his dog. McGuire said that he knew nothing about the dog. Hamell then became abusive and was then ordered away. To-night the two men met on the street and Hamell shot McGuire dead. The murderer escaped and has not yet been captured.

Arrested for Counterfeiting.

BRADFORD, Pa., Dec. 24.—Emma Cole, aged 30, of Windfall, this county, was arrested by United States Marshal Mc-Crea for making and circulating counterfeit money. Miss Cole says she was taught by a friend how to make the counterfeit money with plaster of paris moulds, and that she only made $4. She will have a hearing before United States Commissioner Chapman to-morrow.

Washington Dispatches

A Decision of the Pension Commissioner.

ANOTHER NAME ON THE ROLL.

A Reversal of the Former Pension Commissioner—Congressmen Leaving the City for the Holiday Recess—Other Dispatches From the National Capital.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 24.—Secretary Bussey has reversed the action of the commissioner of pensions in the case of Sarah A. Corson, widow of Joshua Corson, of the Twenty-fourth New Jersey volunteers, whose claim for a pension was rejected on the ground that the origin of hernia, the death cause, was not accepted as due to the wound for which he was pensioned, and was not shown to be due to the service.

In considering the merits of this claim Gen. Bussey says: "The theory appears to have been advanced that no matter what the medical or lay testimony may have been, as to the origin of the death cause, the unqualified and unsupported opinion of the medical referee must be final. It is eminently proper in considering all strictly medical questions, involving a technicality requiring the skill of an expert to determine that the opinion of the medical referee should have great weight, and ordinarily such an opinion should be final. But while giving due weight to the opinion of that officer, justice demands that proper consideration should also be given to competent medical testimony, emanating from those who, having the patient under daily observation and treatment, are presumably in a position to know the practical effects and result of a disease."

The assistant secretary finds that the testimony in this case establishes the ap-plicant's right to a pension and directs the commissioner to place her name on the pension rolls.

Washington Deserted.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 24.—Congressmen were prompt in taking advantage of the holiday recess and many of them hurried home. More than half of them, perhaps, have gone home to eat their Christmas turkey. As a consequence the Capitol was deserted to-day and not a score of senators and representatives were about the building. The house committee of ways and means held a short session, and made some progress with the customs administrative bill which they hope to finish to-morrow.
A few minor changes have been made so far in the bill in committee, and but few others will be made, so the bill to be reported back from the committee, is likely to be practically the same as that introduced in the house.

A Boundary Line Decision.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 24.—The supreme court of the United States has granted the state of Virginia leave to file a complaint against the state of Tennessee, in the matter of the disputed boundary line between the two states. Subpoenas were directed to issue against the governor and attorney general of Tennessee.

A BRIGHT LIGHT DARKENED.

Death of Atlanta's Brilliant Editor, Henry W. Grady.

ATLANTA, Ga., Dec. 24.—Henry W.
Grady died of pneumonia at 3:40 yesterday morning.

The death of Henry Grady is a terrible shock to the people here at his home, the people who knew him and who loved him best. Nobody would believe that Henry Grady would die when the first announcement was made of his serious illness. His friends seemed to treat the matter lightly, as one of them put it to-day. "I could never associate Henry W. Grady with death," and so it seemed with everybody. On Thursday Mr. Grady rallied, was bright, and talked to his friends. Friday he grew worse and suffered from a violent bronchial cough, then pleuro-pneumonia developed, and this, with a complication of unusual nervous prostration proved such a determined attack upon his system that even his great vitality could not resist it.

Dr. F. H. Orme, probably the most prominent homeopathic physician in the south, has been Mr. Grady's family physician for years. He was assisted in the case by Dr. Lucius More, formerly of Memphis, and Dr. A. S. Everett, of Denver, Col. Grave apprehensions were expressed as to the outcome of the case, but it was not until Sunday that the people began to realize that there was real danger of Mr. Grady being taken from them. All day Sunday he was in a stupor.
In his delirium he talked of business matters, especially of efforts to do something for needy friends. It was this that was uppermost in his mind as it was in his life—the desire to help those who needed it. The physicians had little hope after 3 or 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon, but it was not until midnight that there were indications of the sudden approach of the end. Then it was that those who loved him best, the members of his family and a few intimate friends, gathered about his bedside. His physical strength gave way at twenty minutes before 4 o'clock, and the great spirit winged its flight.

The announcement that Henry Woodfin Grady was dead fell like a blow upon all Atlanta, and sad will be the Christmas of this city and this state.

At 2 o'clock on the afternoon of Christmas day the funeral ceremonies will take place. From every section of the state has come the request that his body might lie in state, that the people might look upon his face once more. In response to this request the family has consented that the remains shall rest in the First Methodist church, of which Mr. Grady was a leading member, from 9 o'clock in the morning until the funeral hour. Mrs. Grady's request is that there be no display, nothing but the simplest funeral. These requests will be carried out and on Thursday special memorial services will be held at the capital, in which all the people, the military and the societies, of which Mr.

Grady was a member, will take part.
The speakers will be chosen from among Mr. Grady's classmates at the University of Georgia.

Mr. Grady was born in 1851 at Athens, Ga. He graduated at the Georgia university and took a post graduate course at the University of Virginia. His first newspaper experience was as a contributor to The Atlanta Constitution while he was a college student. In 1871 he became the editor and one of the owners of The Rome Daily Commercial, a sprightly, newsy and enterprising journal. Rome, however, was at that time too small to support a daily run on such a scale, and in 1872 Mr. Grady purchased an interest in The Atlanta Herald. Here he found a field wide enough for him at that stage of his experience. The Herald was one of the most brilliant newspapers ever printed in the south.

After the sharpest competition with The Constitution ever known between any two papers of the south The Herald disappeared from the field. By this its editor's abilities had made him many friends abroad as well as at home, and James Gordon Bennett made him the southern correspondent of The New York Herald.

On this journal Mr. Grady did some of the best work of his life. He rapidly gained all that he had lost in his first ventures, and in 1880 purchased a fourth interest in The Constitution, taking the position of managing editor, which place he held until his fatal illness. The paper under his management, energetically seconded by his associates, became the one southern daily whose utterances are quoted throughout America and in foreign lands.

Death's coming had been feared by those who had watched the case closely, but nobody expected it so soon. The scenes at his home during the last hours were most pathetic. It was shortly after 11 o'clock that Dr. Everett announced that Mr. Grady was sinking rapidly and that the end was near. Then it was that all the members of the family and relations gathered about the sick bed, hoping against hope, yet praying that the cup might not be taken from them.

Friends who had at the doctor's suggestion left the house a few hours previously were hastily summoned. The same question—the same answer, "No hope." Strong men wept like children, one by one, then stole back, gazed for a few seconds upon the ashy pale face and came back with bowed heads and burdened hearts. At 3:40 he drew his last breath and the great heart was still.

At Columbus, Georgia.

COLUMBUS, Ga., Dec. 24.—The announcement of Henry W. Grady's death created profound grief in this community. Mayor Dozier has called a public meeting to take place at the opera house, to take action expressive of the deep feeling over this great loss to the state.

The Enquirer-Sun suggests the calling of a special meeting of the Georgia Press association to draft suitable resolutions, and to make arrangements for erecting a monument over Mr. Grady's grave as a tribute for the state press.

Comments of Boston Papers.

BOSTON, Dec. 24.—The evening papers here contain full obituary articles on Henry W. Grady. The Herald says that his recent visit to Boston was a series of overtures and that the hearts of New England people warmed toward him and his cordial southern ways. With the question: "What could be finer?" it quotes the long introductory reference to New England in his "frank, fervid and eloquent" oration here and says the south has lost its most eloquent orator and one of its most promising sons.

The Journal says the death of the brilliant Georgian comes with more permanent force to Boston since it was here that he delivered his latest eloquent oration.

NERVY BURGLARS.

They Drag a 500-Pound Safe a Mile Through the Streets.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Dec. 24.—A grocery store situated on the corner of East Main and Walter streets, occupied by the Village Store company, was broken into early Sunday morning, and a small safe weighing 500 pounds was taken out and dragged by a rope through various streets to the north end of the town, over a mile away. The burglary was committed within a stone's throw of the Second Precinct police station, and was discovered by an officer, who, with others, followed the track of the safe until they found it in the cellar of the house occupied by Patrick Riel. On searching the house John Connolly and Edward Burns, two crooks, were found asleep in one room. Each had a loaded revolver grasped in his hand, and there were a number of dynamite cartridges in their pockets. They were arrested, together with Riel and his wife. The safe was not broken into.

SALT LAKE CITY, Dec. 24.—At North Point, yesterday, Charles Gilman quarreled with Joseph Walkey, a sheep herder, for letting sheep trespass on Gil-man's land. Walkey fired at Gilman and missed, whereupon Gilman shot Walkey dead. Gilman came here and surrendered himself to the United States marshal.

Unrequited Love Lost.

AUSTIN, Tex., Dec. 24.—J. R. Kevan, who owned a large sheep ranch near this city, shot himself dead yesterday because a daughter of Capt. Stanforth, a retired English officer, living near town, refused to marry him. Kevan belonged to a wealthy Liverpool family.

Death from a Lamp.

NEW YORK, Dec. 24.—By the upsetting of a lamp in her apartments at 167 West Sixtieth street, last night, Mrs.
Kate Houston was so severely burned that she died this morning. Her 2-year-old daughter was also terribly burned and is not expected to live.

THE SPOT CASH SHOE STORE!

AFTER MUCH STUDY AND THE EXPENDITURE OF LARGE MEANS WE HAVE AT LAST ATTAINED THE PERFECTION OF A RETAIL SHOE STORE, A VERY NE PLUS ULTRA.

Ladies' Artistic Shoes at the Lowest Possible Prices!

I'm a Shoe, I'm a Shoe, I'm only a Shoe, I'm leather and pegs, I'm leather and thread, I'm so bonny and bright when I'm new,
Eyes glance at me, and ears list to my tread.

I bear all the burdens of life, They that complain know not my lot;
Mine is a life of daily strife, I bear my ills and murmur not.

SONG OF A SHOE!

Whether in the damp of the prison cell,
Or in the throng of the festal hall,
Or I go at the call of the wedding bell, The joys and sorrows I carry for all.

Thus I wear my life away, Bearing joys and ills together,
And am cast away at the end of my day, In the rubbish heap or out in the weather.

MR. THOMAS, of Kentucky who ran against Speaker Carlisle for Congress before the fiftieth session, and who failed in his candidacy for Deputy Sergeant-at-Arms of the present House, was appointed to a $1,600 position under Clerk McPherson, Saturday.

COLONEL R. BERT G. INGERSOLL thinks the head of the present Republican administration is "like the center of the earth," because "everything gravitates towards it, and there's nothing there." This is "tough" on President Harrison, coming as it does from a Republican.

HON. W. C. P. BRECKINRIDGE has introduced a bill in Congress to modify the internal revenue law. It provides that that portion of the law which imposes restrictions upon the sale of leaf tobacco by producer or persons having control of lands on which tobacco was produced shall be repealed, and none of the persons so indicated, either dealers or land owners, shall be subject to tax thereon. It also provides that the Secretary of the Treasury shall exempt all distilleries which mash five bushels or less of grain per day from the operation of the internal revenue law, which tax shall be levied on the capacity of distilleries, the distilleries to be run and operated without Storekeepers or Gaugers.

QUEER, isn't it, that Republicans don't want the amount of farm mortgages in this country ascertained? Yes, it is rather queer, but it's true, nevertheless. One day last week a Congressman from Missouri introduced an amendment to a deficiency appropriation bill providing for the expenditure of $200,000 to be used by the Superintendent of the Census "to ascertain the number and amounts of farm mortgages in the United States." The Republicans at once "bobbed up" in opposition to the amendment, and it was defeated, but only for the time being. The Democrats are anxious for all the facts in regard to this question, and it will not be their fault if all the facts are not obtained and made public. Republicans act as though they think this farm mortgage question is loaded.

For the Farmer.

Jack Neil, of Paris, has sold a four-year-old colt by Favorite Wilkes for $3,000.

Oats are being exported in larger quantity than usual to French and English markets.

Official reports place the butter product for the year at 1,300,000,000 pounds, and the cheese product at 400,000,000 pounds approximately.

It has been estimated that India raises one bushel of wheat per head of her population, the United States seven bushels per head and South Australia nineteen bushels.

A company has been formed in Philadelphia, under the name of the Ramie Company of America, for the purpose of developing the ramie industry in this country.

There were forty competitors for the prize of $10,000 offered by the Illinois State Grange for a device to bind grain with straw, and the successful inventor, to whom the prize was awarded, is said to have declined it, having received larger offers for his machine and patents.

Official receipts of cattle at Chicago for the first eleven months of the year were 2,773,615, or 373,000 head more than during the same period of 1888. The receipts at that point for the year will prove by far the greatest on record. So also of sheep, with 1,674,506 received up to December 1st.

Railway News.

The holiday rates went into effect yesterday.

A road is talked of to run from Maysville to Georgetown, by way of Mt. Olivet and Cynthiana.

The C. & O. pay-car passed over the road Friday distributing Christmas money among the employees.

The Kentucky Central has another big law suit on hand. At Covington Saturday suit for $20,000 damages was entered against the company by Mrs. Luella Jameson. She is the widow of George B. Jameson, who was struck by a freight train near Thirteenth street a few months ago and killed. It is claimed that the accident was the result of negligence on the part of the employees of the railroad.

A Card.

The rumor is being circulated that I have withdrawn from the race for Collector and Treasurer. For the benefit of my friends I take pleasure in saying that I am in the race to stay.

Very Respectfully,

AUSTIN HOLMES.

River Items.

Captain Edgington paid $9,200 for the swift little M. P. Wells.

The St. Louis Republic says the Hudson has made $12,000 in the Cincinnati and Pittsburg trade this season.

Hereafter, the Bonanza will leave Cincinnati daily at 11 p. m. for Maysville and Manchester, passing here on return trip about noon.

The Bostona for Pomeroy, Handy No. 2 for Portsmouth and Sherley for Pittsburg will pass up to-night, and the St. Lawrence will pass down.

A Pittsburg towboat pilot says: "On my last trip from Louisville to Pittsburg I counted 530 shanty boats along the river—only those I saw during the daytime."

The towboats Kate Waters No. 2 and Annie L. collided at the mouth of Tygart Creek Thursday night, the former sinking in 18 feet of water. No lives lost. Insured for $4,000.

Captain John W. Holloway has resigned the command of the Pomeroy packet, St. Lawrence, and will be succeeded by Captain Eph Tolbert. Curt Culver takes Captain Tolbert's place in pilot house of the St. Lawrence.

The Handy No. 2 has entered the Cincinnati and Portsmouth trade, taking the old days of the Bonanza, leaving Cincinnati at noon every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, with Captain Sam Moore in command and Joe Norton and Ike Arrington in the office.

Swedish Nightingales.

Music-loving people are promised a rich treat at the opera house next Friday night, when the the Swedish Ladies' Double Quartette makes its first appearance in Maysville. The St. Paul Daily News of June 6th, says:

It is a pleasure to praise these ladies, so charmingly do they sing. In their national songs there is the suggestion of the fjord, the glacier, the mighty mountains and quiet green valleys of their native land. As they sing one may catch in the refrain the expression of that never-dying love for their beautiful country, which every Swede bears with him to his death. The effect is enhanced by the national costumes worn by the singers. The voices are clear, pure and without musical conceits of any kind. They are cultivated as well, and sing not only the sweet old national ballads, but difficult passages from grand operas. Wherever the company has appeared it has left hundreds of friends and admirers.

ELEGANT toilet cases, smokers' sets, manicure sets and traveling sets, at Power & Reynolds', Cox Building. Just the articles for Christmas presents. 19-6t

THE Christmas entertainment at the Christian Church comes off this evening at 7 o'clock. There will be a concert in the main room, followed by a supper in the basement.

SALLIE & SALLIE, attorneys for Louis Zech, have sold the property known as the "Schatzman Bakery" on Second street, in the Fifth ward, to George W. Crowell for $3,000 cash.

CHRISTMAS services, consisting of morning prayer, sermon and holy communion, will be held at the Church of the Nativity to-morrow at 11 o'clock. All Christian people are invited to attend.

MR. A. M. ROGERS, who has been ill the past year, is no better. His general health is failing fast, and the attending physicians give his relatives no hope of any improvement in his condition.

REV. J. M. EVANS has returned from Greenup County, where he held a successful meeting in Greenup Union Church. There were sixty-two additions, and $82 was raised for evangelistic work.

We call special attention to Frank Owens Hardware Co.'s advertisement in to-day's issue. They will offer their brass goods and coal vases at very reduced figures. They don't want to carry them over to next winter--rather have the money than the goods. 1t

THE K. OF P. BAZAR

Opened Under Favorable Auspices-- A Large Crowd Present
Last Night.

The K. of P. bazar will be one of the attractions all this week. It commenced last night. Neptune Hall, where it is being held, is neatly and prettily decorated with evergreens, streamers, the colors of the order and the stars and stripes. At one end of the room, oysters, ice cream, cakes and other refreshments are served. At either side of the hall the articles for sale and raffia are displayed. The list is quite an extended one, and embraces such things as handsome lamps, rocking chairs, articles of fancy needlework, a fine set of china, a chamber set, cakes, several barrels of flour and other articles.

Quite a crowd was present last night. Haucke's Reed and Brass Band discoursed some of its best selections, and later on the Maysville Orchestra furnished music for the dancers. The only articles raffled was a fine rocking chair (drawn by Mr. Henry Ort) and a handsome lamp (drawn by Mr. S. S. Riley). A large attendance is expected to-night.

DROPPED DEAD.

"Shad" Green, Section Hand on the C. & O., Expires Suddenly From Heart Disease.

C. R. Green, better known among his acquaintances as "Shad" Green, dropped dead near the fair grounds late yesterday afternoon. He was a section hand on the C. and O. railway, and was on board a hand-car with several of his fellow-laborers returning from their day's work.

"Pump up, boys," remarked Green, "and let's get home and take Christmas." The next instant he threw up his hands with an exclamation, "Oh!" and fell from the car. When his companions picked him up he was dead.

Dr. Owens was summoned and pronounced it a case of heart disease or apoplexy. At an inquest held by Coroner Cockrell, the jury rendered a verdict in accordance with the above facts.

Deceased was about sixty-five years old, and leaves a wife and four or five children, who are living somewhere in Virginia. He was a brother of Mr. Henry Green, formerly a conductor on the Kentucky Central.

Here and There.

State Senator Poyntz expects to leave for Frankfort next Friday.

Miss Carrie F. Hall left this morning to visit friends in Huntington, W. Va.

Miss Cora Chappell, of Carlisle, is visiting her cousin, Mrs. W. H. Ryder.

Messrs. Frank and Willie Byrne are home from Cincinnati spending the holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones, of Cincinnati, are visiting her mother, Mrs. Conrad, of the Fifth ward.

Messrs. James H. and C. L. Sallee will eat Christmas turkey with their mother, at Fern Leaf.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Blaine, of Lexington, are guests of her parents, Colonel and Mrs. Frank S. Owens.

Dr. John M. Frazee, Mason County's Representative in the Legislature, will leave for Frankfort next Friday.

Mrs. Dennis Hanley and daughter, Miss Anna, of Verdon, Neb., are the guests of Mrs. Margaret Hanley, of Front street.

Mr. Elmer E. Nicholson, of Canton, O., is spending the holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Nicholson, of Limestone street.

Mrs. Lucy Gurney and Miss Pearl Sutton will spend Christmas holidays with friends in Cincinnati and with Rev. J. W. Mitchell, of Newport.

The Knights of St. John have elected the following officers for 1890:

CAPTAIN RENO's missing trunk, of which mention was made last Saturday, was found at Ft. Worth, Texas. It was not stolen, but was sent there through a mistake of the baggage-master at the Central Depot, Cincinnati.

FAIR warning given to the public that the Mason County Building and Saving Association will close its subscription books for the 10th series as soon as 1,346 shares are subscribed. If you want any stock, subscribe at once.

THE latest news in express circles is that the Adams people will not retire from the C. & O. Railroad at the close of 1889, as was reported some weeks ago. It is said that the sum asked was a little too high for the American.

THE Vanceburg Sun says: "Thomas R. Phister's speech in the case of Anthony Thomas against the railroad, was a fine effort. He is a fluent and graceful speaker and received numerous congratulations for his able presentation of his client's cause."

PISGAH ENCAMPMENT No. 9, I. O. O. F., elected the following officers last night: C. P.-Frank Bromley.
H. P.-H. C. Bendel.
S. W.-D. P. Ort.
J. W.-T. M. Lum.
Scribe-Byron Rudy.
Treasurer-James Smith.

THE Vanceburg Times remarks: "If the Tollesboro correspondent of the Maysville Republican is no better at counting eggs than he is in counting the number of papers that come into that office, he had better not go into the grocery business, or go out, if he is in."

THE Covington Commonwealth says: "Mr. Geo. Wormald, Sr., of Bellvue, who has been confined to his home for a long time suffering from dropsy, was taken to Maysville on the C. and O. railroad Monday morning, in hopes of benefiting his failing health. Mrs. Wormald has so far recovered from the injuries sustained by a recent fall as to be able to accompany her husband, who will be in the hands of immediate friends of the family at that place."

THE Red Corner Clothing House still maintains its reputation for exhibiting the neatest and prettiest show windows in town. Take a peep at the fancy articles now to be seen there. The display is so attractively arranged that Cincinnati parties a few days ago pronounced it equal to anything of the kind to be seen in the Queen City. You can find some handsome Christmas presents at the Red Corner, and you get a ticket on that elegant water service and gold watch with every dollar purchase.

THE beautiful cantata "Santa Claus' Excursion" will be rendered Thursday night, December 26th, at the Lewisburg Baptist Church by the entire Sunday school of the church, under the auspices of the lady members. The cantata consists of choruses, quartettes, duets and solos, the musical parts being interspersed with dialogues of a humorous character. The best talent that could be afforded will assist. Everybody cordially invited. Proceeds for benefit of the church. Doors open at 7 p. m.; performance begins at 8 p. m. d12-24

THE Cincinnati Enquirer stated Saturday that Messrs. Goble & Savage will not close the contract with Captain Powers for the Maysville and Aberdeen ferry. No reason is assigned for their failing to do so. The sale was announced as positive in the BULLETIN some days ago, the information being furnished us at the time by Mr. Frank Savage, one of the parties interested. It turns out that they simply had an option of taking the boat within a specified time, and they failed, for some reason or other, to come up with the required cash.

Smith-Slavin Fight.

It Occurs Near Burges, England.

A VERY DISGRACEFUL AFFAIR.

The Ring Broken Into and the Fight Stopped While the Referee Declares it a Draw—Some Very Severe Criticisms on the Event—Other Dispatches From Abroad.

BRUGES, Dec. 24.—Jem Smith and Frank Slavin fought on private grounds three miles from here yesterday morning. The friends of both parties squabbled from the outset. The Smith party seemed inclined to prevent a meeting, and placed every obstacle they could in the way of bringing the men together.

At the ring side the proceedings were disgraceful, and the ring was broken into. The referee said it was impossible to obtain fair play, and declared the fight a draw. Slavin showed the effects of his punishment but little at the end of the contest, and was as full of fight as he was at the start.

Emperor William All Right.

BERLIN, Dec. 24.—It is announced that Emperor William has completely recovered from his illness of last week. He has created the Grand Duke of Saxe-Weimar general oberst of cavalry, in recognition of that general's military jubilee.

Dom Pedro Leaves Lisbon.

LONDON, Dec. 24.—Dom Pedro and the ex-empress of Brazil Sunday bade farewell to Lisbon and the queen and dowager queen and started for Coimbra. The Duke of Oporto and a number of Brazilians witnessed their departure. The ex-empress was deeply moved.

Cutting Off His Allowance.

The news of the provisional government's action in issuing a decree suppressing the allowance to the ex-emperor, and forbidding the return of the imperial family to Brazil has been withheld from Dom Pedro by the advice of his physicians. The decree, besides suppressing his allowances, orders the confiscation of his property, and forbids the return of the imperial family to Brazil for two years.

The Brazilian legation here announces that the illness of President Da Fonseca is not serious.

Bankers and Merchants Uneasy.

Uneasiness prevails among bankers and merchants of Lisbon, because of the evident untrustworthiness of advices from Brazil. Private cablegrams received in cipher via the west coast and London quote a different figure for exchange from that allowed to pass the censorship at Rio for direct cabling to Lisbon. It is thus difficult to calculate a basis for commercial transactions, and the actual situation in Brazil is left in uncertainty.

THE MOZAMBIQUE TROUBLE.

Serpa Pinto's Fight With the Makololos Confirmed.

LONDON, Dec. 24.—Dispatches from Quillimane, under date of Nov. 13, confirm the report made by Engineer Castell to the colonial minister of the encounter with the Makololos. The dispatches say, also, that the natives made an unprovoked attack upon the camp at Munassa, and that Castell, after a stubborn resistance, defeated them and occupied the country. It was reported that the British missionaries at Blantic instigated the Makololos.

Maj. Serpa Pinto conferred with the governor of Mozambique, and afterwards proceeded with the gunboat Quanza to Quillimane, going thence to Mopa. A fortnight later news was received that the natives were massed on the Zambesi, and were advancing in the direction of the Shire river. Serpa Pinto sent his scientific instruments to the coast for safety, and placed Costellos, Engineer Themudi and Lieut. Contino in command of the Portuguese and native troops, Contino also directing the movements of the three steamers armed with guns and manned by Portuguese sailors.

The latest news to Oct. 29 was that Pinto had sufficient stores to last three months, and that there was great activity in the camp. Pinto was suffering from malaria. He expected to be able to subdue the Makololos by December, and to return to Lisbon.

The Spanish press, commenting upon the Serpa Pinto incident, criticise Portugal for not having sought commercial and social union with Spain, instead of courting British favor. She is now in danger of being left without friends or allies.

Emperor William Better.

BERLIN, Dec. 24.—It was announced Sunday that Emperor William had completely recovered from his illness of last week. He has created the Grand Duke of Saxe-Weimar general oberst of cavalry in recognition of that general's military jubilee.

Moussa Bey's Case.

LONDON, Dec. 24.—The British government has asked the Turkish government for copies of the court records of the trial of Moussa Bey, presumably with the intention of instituting an inquiry into the case.

Not Safe to Move Emin.

ZANZIBAR, Dec. 24.—The physicians attending Emin Pasha say it will not be safe to move him from Bagamoyo for three weeks. He is slowly recovering from the effects of his fall.

Tragedy Between School Boys.

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 24.—Two boys, Hugh Lawson and Lewis Keenble, aged respectively 13 and 14 years, while at play during school recess, at a point in Livingston county, Ky., just opposite Golconda, Ill., had a scuffle over a ball, and the former plunged a pocket knife into the neck of the latter, severing the jugular vein and killing him almost instantly. Young Lawson was taken to Smithland, Ky., and lodged in jail. Both boys belong to the best families in Livingston county.

OUR NEIGHBORS.

MT. CARMEL.

Miss Mary Nash visited relatives in Flemingsburg last week.

Dr. A. M. Wallingford, Jr., of the Louisville University, is at home to spend the holidays.

C. L. Power came home from Millersburg Thursday on a visit of a few days to his parents.

Taylor A. Lumpkin, who is attending college at Millersburg, returned home Friday to spend the holidays.

W. L. King surprised his acquaintances and relatives here by returning home Saturday, after an absence of eighteen months.

Miss Houston, of this place, and Mr. Thomas, of Texas, were united in the holy bonds of wedlock Monday at 2 p. m., at the Christian Church, by Rev. Morrison, in the presence of a large audience.

The school entertainment given by Prof. Lowe Friday night at the M. E. Church was in every sense of the word a big success. The house was well filled by an orderly, well-behaved audience, who were highly entertained by the splendid programme. The singing of Miss Ada Humphrey and a recitation by Mrs. Lowe were especially noticeable. The "Backwoods School," the "Elopement to Aberdeen" and the "Jintown Lyceum" also came in for their share of the applause, and the tableaus, "Sweet Hour of Prayer," and the "Allegory of States" were just grand. "The Scars," by Misses Linna Turner, Maudie Muse, Minnie Luman and Nannie Foxworthy was well rendered, as was also "Our Holidays," by Messrs. Charles Cook and Johnnie Morrison. Misses Ella Wallingford and Linna Turner. We desire to congratulate Prof. Lowe on his success, and hope at the next entertainment he may have a larger audience.

Wisconsin is credited with 1,031 creameries and cheese factories.
